

GAMMA-KAPPA
CHAPTER OF
KAPPA SIGMA
CHRISTMAS NEWSLETTER

Dear Kappa Sigma Alumni and Parents,

The Gamma-Kappa Chapter has experienced a great first semester of the 2018-2019 school year. Our brotherhood has expanded, and we have made significant progress as a fraternity. As was the case with our brothers before us, we work to keep the traditions of Kappa Sigma and build for a better future. Though our hard work, we have made our fraternity heard across campus. In the past several years, we've grown to be an influential fraternity at the University of Oklahoma and we continue to grow with a bright future.

Homecoming

The University of Oklahoma's homecoming tradition is a week of festive activities (This year it was October 21-27) that students, alumni, and parents can get involved with. This year, we were paired with Alpha Gamma Delta for homecoming and our theme was Gotham City. The events that we were involved in were the parade and the homecoming dance. Trent Robertson (Homecoming chair) said, "Homecoming went well, we accomplished what we wanted to, and I was glad to get involved." Trent played a crucial role in making our float this year.

Evan Rabb

Our contributions to homecoming this year turned out great but the greatest thing to happen for us was one of our brothers becoming homecoming king. We wish to congratulate our brother Evan Rabb on his amazing accomplishment. Evan has been involved with several organizations on campus such as Campus Activities Council (CAC), Interfraternity Council (IFC), and Camp Crimson. He was nominated by IFC to run for homecoming king. His favorite part of homecoming was the Medallion Lunch-in with Alumni. When asked what his final thoughts on homecoming were, he said, "It was a unique experience to see the other side of homecoming and is something that I will always remember."

University Sing

This year Kappa Sigma were paired with Delta Gamma for University Sing. Our show, called the Great Escape, was a magician-based show about Harry Houdini. Every year, a new group of our brothers had the pleasure of performing and competing against other shows. We performed four times at the Reynolds Performing Arts Center during “Holmberg Week”, or in other words the week of competition that we had to prepare for all semester long. “University sing was a lot of fun because of how we were able to get closer with our brothers and the Delta Gamma sisters,” said Zac Cowger (Parents Chair, University Sing and Scandals Director-Elect). With the amount of time and effort that we put in, we were able to make the show truly exceptional. None of this would’ve been done without the help of our directors, Ryan Jones, Evan Rabb, Carson Pressgrove, Harris Neuens, Olivia Diel, Kaylee Gillespie, Nicole Jerome, and Rebecca Koltun. Their dedication to our production was inspirational and our performance wouldn’t have been the same without their passion and determination. At the conclusion of University Sing, Kappa Sigma and Delta Gamma received awards for best costumes and best supporting actress (Jayden Knight). We are proud of the cast members and our brothers made memories that will last a lifetime.

Executive Committee and Pledge Class

This year we had a great executive committee that lead our chapter to a bright future. Their hard work and dedication have proved to our entire chapter to live by the traditions and do everything we can to make this fraternity the best on campus. We thank the 2018 executive committee.

Grand Master: Kyle Morley

Grand Procurator: Kyler Allen

Grand Treasurer: Chance Newcomb

Grand Scribe: Joshua Dubiel

Grand Master of Ceremonies: Tom Whitson

As we enter a new year, we welcome a new executive committee. These elected individuals show great promise to lead this fraternity into a future that will have us recognized all over campus. We congratulate the 2019 executive committee.

Grand Master: Trent Robertson

Grand Procurator: Cole Miller

Grand Treasurer: Drew Brown

Grand Scribe: Braden Demuth

Grand Master of Ceremonies: Nathan Hodge

This fall, we welcomed 42 new members to the Gamma-Kappa Chapter of Kappa Sigma. This pledge class has shown that they have the potential of making a big difference in this fraternity. This upcoming semester there are several new members that will hold committee chairs and one that was elected to the executive committee (Braden Demuth, Grand Scribe). With this new pledge class, there is a new class of members that are willing ensure the greatness of our chapter.

Support the Troops

One member that needs to be recognized is Adam Munekata. He was the 2018 Fall Pledge Class Vice President. Adam is in his junior year at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado; however, he was permitted to attend a semester at the University of Oklahoma. It is unusual for a member of the military to want to be a part of a fraternity, but Adam said, “I wanted to get a different outlook on brotherhood that wasn’t military-based.” Over the semester, he made an impact on everyone he met. It’s hard for us to imagine that he will be back at the academy when we come back from the break. He is a great brother and an even better friend. When asked what his favorite memory at University of Oklahoma was, he said, “It’s hard to just name one; coming to OU was one of the greatest experiences of my life. I loved meeting everyone and being involved in Kappa Sigma.” It’s sad that Adam must go back to Colorado, but we know that he is off to do great things. Adam said, “The thing I’m going to miss the most are all the people, especially my brothers.” It was a pleasure to get to know Adam over this semester and we look forward to seeing him again soon
